

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

VSO Software announces the release of a new major version of DVD Converter and Blu-ray Converter Ultimate.

TOULOUSE, France (November 15th, 2012) – VSO Software releases today Blu-ray Converter Ultimate 2 and DVD Converter 2, major new versions of their programs to convert and burn decrypted Blu-ray videos and DVDs to many formats.

The new interface adds in simplicity: on top of the existing discriminator that lists the main video files, in the right order and supports multi angle formats, an integrated video player has been added, with improved support for forced subtitles

“With the new “one window” display, there’s something for everyone: a very easy software to use, where all you need to do is insert the file, choose the output and click on “Convert”, while experienced users will find more advanced options available in one click” explains Cedric Van-Dendaele, developer at VSO Software.

The control over video customization has been taken to a new level with new padding and cropping feature and settings to apply different resize filters for upscaling or downscaling.

The software has also gained in speed with DXVA2 hardware decoding for Intel, Nvidia and ATI graphic cards and now allows for simultaneous conversions.

The programs offer ultimate quality with the 2-pass conversion option in this new version. As for the technical details, the remuxing profiles have been optimized and it is now possible to create custom profiles including profiles based on a sample video file (useful for portable devices like phones and pads) and limit the output by video bitrate.

Both software convert to a large selection of outputs: DVD (PAL and NTSC standards, with DVD menu), AVI, MKV, Apple profiles (Iphone, Ipad, Apple TV), PS3, Xbox and Playstation with various codecs available (H264, DivX, Mpeg2, Mpeg 4, AAC, AC3, DTS...). The integrated burning engine enables for burning the conversion to DVD if needed.

Both programs can be downloaded here: <http://www.vso-software.fr/download.php>

The free trial includes 10 minute video conversion.

Blu-ray Converter full version costs 49.99$ and DVD Converter is on sale at 29.99$
